Summer Symposium for Multicultural Students

June 16–18 or July 7–9

Meredith's Summer Symposium is a two-day educational and transitional experience to foster a sense of community among incoming first-year and transfer multicultural students.

Our symposium provides an opportunity for students to create relationships with other multicultural students, participate in bonding and cultural activities, and meet faculty and staff. Additionally, this program will provide participants with a framework for success in helping them to build a bridge from their respective communities and pre-collegiate experiences to Meredith College.

Students can attend the symposium at no cost. The symposiums take place in conjunction with the Advising and Registration events held on June 18 and July 9.
