About Sophie Lanneau

Sophie Lanneau was one of the “Immortal Ten,” Meredith College’s first graduating class in 1902, and the first president of the Meredith College Alumnae Association. In 1907, when she was 26 years old, Sophie received her missionary appointment to China, where she became the founder and principal of the Wei Ling Girls’ Academy. She envisioned the school as a means of imparting a Christian view of life to the Chinese, educating Chinese girls and upgrading the position of women in China. Sophie had a passion for serving both God and humanity and this program honors her dedication, vision, involvement, and inspiration as a leader; and her commitment to Meredith College, the community, and the world.

The Program

The program provides opportunities to:

- Develop, enhance, and practice a personal philosophy of leadership
- Be challenged to explore self-understanding, understanding of others, and acceptance of responsibilities inherent in community membership

The program will prepare you for present and future leadership, for your role as a member of institutions, organizations, other communities, the nation, and the world.

All participating students will be matched with a faculty or staff member who will serve as an adviser to help guide you through the program.

In order to gain competencies for effective leadership, you will need to meet requirements in each of these three categories:

Foundations of Leadership

Gain a greater understanding of concepts such as Gender in Contemporary Society, Social Justice, Leadership, Social Problems, and Community Organizing and Activism.

Leadership Focus

- Learn more about yourself by increasing your self-awareness.
- Learn more about how to lead, develop, and motivate groups.
- Learn how to apply yourself as a leader at Meredith College, in your community, the nation, and the world.

Leadership Challenge

- Complete a Leadership Development Reflection and a Leadership Challenge Project that will help you demonstrate your interests and challenges as a leader.
